

PERMIT TO ENGAGE IN FISHERY OPERATIONS WITHIN THE ALASKA PENINSULA FISHERIES RESERVATION

Permit No. 30-1924.

Shumagin Packing Company.
Squaw Harbor (Baralof Bay).

October 25, 1923.

A reservation designated as the Alaska Peninsula Fisheries Reservation having been created by the Executive Order of February 17, 1922, the Shumagin Packing Company, whose home office is at South Bellingham, Washington, is hereby authorized to operate its plant for the catching and canning of salmon for commercial purposes at Squaw Harbor (Baralof Bay) on Unga Island, within the Shumagin District of the said reservation, during the calendar year 1924, under the following conditions:

1. That the company may operate five (5) traps, the Kelly Rock and Big Valley traps as operated in 1923, and three new traps: one on or near Spectacle Island in the Shumagin Group, one in Ivanof Bay and one in Humpback Bay on the mainland.

2. That the pack of red salmon shall not exceed twenty-five thousand (25,000) cases, and the total pack seventy-five thousand (75,000) cases, computed upon the basis of 48 one-pound cans per case. Not more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) cases in all shall be taken from the two mainland traps. When the red salmon quota is reached, traps producing red salmon shall be closed and may not be reopened until the local agent of the Bureau of Fisheries certifies that the red run is past.

3. Salmon may be purchased from local individuals having permits to fish, but the fish so obtained must be included within the prescribed pack limit.

4. That the company shall observe the existing laws and regulations for the protection of the fisheries of Alaska and for the administration of the said reservation (copies of which are attached hereto and the conditions of which are made a part of this permit), as well as those that may hereafter be enacted or promulgated for such purposes.

5. That this permit expires December 31, 1924, is not transferable, and is revocable at any time at the pleasure of the Secretary of Commerce.

S. B. DAVIS

Acting Secretary of Commerce.
